

CAPT. HENRY COLLINS UNDER PROBE

Investigation Of 16th Avenue Armory Looms

TRENTON—Captain Henry C. Collins of Company A, First Separate Battalion, New Jersey National Guard, was relieved of his command, it was revealed by Quartermaster

First Lieutenant Robert D. Trott (left), who was appointed as acting commander, Company A, First Separate Battalion, New Jersey National Guard, replacing Captain Collins (right). General Barlow, Tuesday, Barlow claimed that an investigation into the money received for rentals of the drill hall led to the dismissal.

Suspicion was directed at Collins when signs, placards and announcements of dances and other affairs were distributed and it was noted that neither permission from Barlow nor Tent had been reported, Barlow stated.

An investigation by Major Samuel L. South disclosed that Collins received more than $1,000 in rentals which he failed to turn over to the State, Barlow claimed. Collins is under bond as custodian of the 16th Ave. Armory, Newark, as company commander, and South claimed that the State will suffer no loss. Pending completion of the investigation, First Lieutenant Robert D. Trott is in command of the company.

Fight Trenton Housing Because Of Location

BULLETIN!!

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Nathan Strauss, United States housing administrator, signed a loan contract Monday to provide Trenton with $2,429,000 for two low-rent housing developments.

TRENTON, N. J.—A fight against erecting a low cost housing project for colored on land adjoining the New Lincoln grade school came to a head Friday night when opponents of the project were invited to a public hearing in the council chamber at City Hall by the Trenton Housing Authority. No final decision was made by the Commission.

Basile of the objection is that a project for whites is being built in a better section of the city than the project for colored. Other objections have arisen from white property owners in the section where the colored project is proposed. Both white and colored objectors are divided in the matter.

The colored project is to house 110 to 120 families. Dr. J. Leroy Morris of Springfield, leader of colored opposition to the site, did not attend, but issued a statement demanding a more desirable site. His group is awaiting a hearing on December 6th.

Councillor Ellis L. Plerson, white, spokesman for the property owners, objecting to the colored site, said he did not want to raise a race question. He called the expenditure "ridiculous" how-

SAVE 4 FROM STARVING

Man Rescues Four Starving Children From "Hell-Hole"

The heroic work of an unemployed two dollar a month roomer, Paul Gooch, affected the rescue of four abandoned starving and freezing children, whose ages ranged from two to six, from a tenement "hell-hole" here last night, assuring them of life and a more normal Christmas in the Babies' Hospital.

"Tormented by the midnight screams and cries of Henry, 6, Loretta, 3, Lenore, 5, and Joseph, 2, who were cuddled in two pale-blue windowed attic rooms on the third floor of their world-be 'death chamber' at 68 Monmouth street, Gooch rushed into the street and reported the condition to a cruising radio patrol.

"I couldn't stand their screams any longer," explained Gooch, who seemed doubtful whether he had done the right thing. The neighbors living in identical tenement holes assured him that he was a hero.

Meanwhile police were searching for the two deserting parents, Henry and Helen Albany, who left their brood in a wretched fate.

The Albany family had remained a mystery to their immediate neighbors. Few of them could remember what they looked like. They had moved in the attic rooms some time last February. Both father and mother, however, were rarely at home. Gooch, who roomed in the attic with the family, stated that frequently he came home and fed the children when he found that they had been left in the house without food or heat. He lost his job last week and was unable to buy food or coal. This moved him to take matters in his own hands.

The chamber in which the quarter-faced death consisted of two dilapidated and poorly furnished rooms. A stove, a bed and a couch were the only furnishings. Nearly all of the windows were missing, many of them boarded up with pasteboard.

The only food was a pot of

30 Workers On Commission Are Certified

The long awaited list of field workers and executives named by the Negro Survey Commission two weeks ago was released Monday morning at which time field investigation work of the Commission began. Thirty workers were notified and a staff put to work in the Atlantic City area.

Work in Bergen County will be directed from the Court House in Hackensack through an arrangement of William Galloway, Commission member. Work in the North Jersey area and Trenton will be handled from the Commission's main office at 1060 Broad street, Newark.

The research staff has been increased with the addition of James A. Curtis of Newark and Miss Hortense Gross of Jersey City as research assistants.

Field investigators who have been notified of their appointments are: Carl A. Twitchell, Trenton; Carl Allen, Montclair; Anna Burrell, Newark; Paul Young, Moorestown; Clarence Hightower, Passaic; Elsie R. Smith, Ward, Jersey City; Charlotte M. Kyle, Newark; James Abrams, Newark; Elizabeth M. Crawford, Woodbury; Fannie L. Peters, Gloucester; Mamie Banks, Paulsboro; Almada S. Johnson, Mt. Holly; Ruthie E. Bryant, Larchside; William H. Vaughn, Trenton; W. H. Vick, Montclair, and George Burgess, Vaux Hall.

The field staff will work for several weeks visiting 8,000 colored families throughout the State and gathering from them information regarding living, housing and employment conditions, family income, community activities, health facilities and other information designed to give the Commission a picture of how colored families in New Jersey have fared during the depression.

Rev. Weathers Submits His Second Resignation

By W. H. MALLOY

The Rev. C. C. Weathers, pastor of Pilgrim Baptist Church announced again Sunday that he would be through with his pastorate after this Sunday's service. He resigned several weeks ago, then reconsidered when a church meeting refused to accept his resignation. His second resignation came a few days after his predecessor, the Rev. E. E. Ricks, had published a newspaper statement attacking Weathers.

"The idea of you people partaking of the Lord's Supper and hating each other is a disgrace upon the church," he said during his sermon. "I am free to criticize the Baptist Church because I am one of its pilots. The church must not only tell people about Heaven, but must also tell them about cultural and social life, how to get jobs, shoes on their feet, food and health—the same way as do many other agencies for better living."

"The Negro has been too long a slave to superstition and he needs to be emancipated from that idea of religion. Young people come to the church looking for love and fellowship and find hate and spite."

"In my work at the State Prison I am addressed by the officers and prisoners as Mr. Weathers, but at the church I am 'old Weathers,' who is 'too black.'" The minister's reference here is to a letter that a "color line with the race exists at Pilgrim."

"The church should preach the gospel in terms of employment, in terms of homes and in terms of disease prevention. This is a practical age. Our schools and other institutions have modernized and so should we."

Pocketbook

Gag Warning

PATERSON, N. J.—Captain James Smith, head of the Detective Bureau of this city, issued a warning last week to all domestics to notify local police upon being approached by anyone trying to obtain money from them in the "old pocketbook" gag.

Usually working in pairs, one will drop a pocketbook full of money. The other one comes behind and "finds" it, offering to split it with the domestic if she pays him a sum of money for the privilege.

Recently the grafters have been centering their attentions on the colored domestics of this city.

Claudia Made Call On Mrs. Geo. Armstead

By CLARA L. SMITH

PATERSON, N. J.—Mrs. Claudia Sumner visited Mrs. Bertha Armstead, wife of slain Rev. George W. Armstead, two weeks before Claudia shot the minister to death in Fairlawn. There was nothing strange about the visit as Claudia was known to share the affection of other members for the pastor's wife. The pastor's sister, Mrs. Hamlin, was present for a part of the visit. Claudia came about three o'clock and remained a half hour.

Meanwhile, mourning continues to increase in the white residential neighborhood where the late Reverend George W. Armstead resided with his attractive wife. His sister, Mrs. Hamlin, also resided at this residence. All were happy together and neighbors scoff at the idea that the deceased was unfaithful because "he was too attentive and devoted to his wife and church work, and held a steady job too." Folks will tell you how he and Dr. J. M. Van Winkle (white) spent hour after hour spoiled potatoes. Neighbors said that the Albany family was on relief and that a "Miss Kind," investigator, came around occasionally. When found, however, the children were without food or adequate clothing. Neighbors frequently saw them running around in front of the house without shoes.

At the Babies' Hospital Saturday the children experienced their first clean clothing and slept in a clean bed. They could not remember their father or what he looked like. They could only give a scant description of their mother.

School authorities at the Monmouth Street School, where Henry and Lenora attended for a month and a half, stated their names had been withdrawn from the rolls for "non-attendance." Due to the fact that the children were under the school compulsory age none of the school's investigators had visited the home.

Visitors to the scene of the abandonment were shocked that such an apartment could be rented. Inadequate heating, lighting, toilet and living conditions were apparent in all of the apartments of the house.

Residents stated that they were paying from $15 to $22 per month for rent and stated that the landlord had refused to repair windows that were broken.

NEW YORK CITY.—John Edgar Clark, former City Editor of the Amsterdam News, charged last week that that paper was insincere in its campaign for jobs because the plant at Fairlawn, N. J., where it is printed, does not employ any colored help save at the time he worked there one day a week.

Guild In J. C. Dance

JERSEY CITY.—The Guild of Carriers entertained its many friends and patrons on last Friday night by presenting a Free Yuletide Dance and Reception at the House of Friendship, Y. W. C. A., on Belmont avenue.

Dancing took place in the spacious gym on the second floor while on the main floor tables were attractively set for bridge. It was really like old home week with everybody who was anybody in attendance. I think we are safe in saying that it was the most outstanding affair given at the "Y."

Those serving on the committee were as follows: Mrs. Robert Hartgrove, chairman; Mrs. E. Douglas, vice-chairman; and Mrs. H. Martin, treasurer. The proceeds of this affair will be used for charity.

Look What You Missed

After much hard work and smooth salesmanship we were able to get for the first time a reliable photograph of the famous Michael's paper, its advertiser, but we never realized at that time what a man and what a sacrifice this man was making in order to show his appreciation of his many Negroes who buy from him.

When we received the copy for this ad we were not told of the value a person would receive by buying what was advertised, but when we returned the following week to check on how the ad drew we were told of the loss incurred by the many sales.

Most credit and thanks must be given to the owner of Michael's Department Store at Washington and Market streets which was this generous and fast-thinking merchant who offered a 14-karat gold wrist watch of 15 jewels for the small sum of $5.95 to see if what our advertising agent, Louis Michael, told him was true. Mr. Michael never dreaming that he would receive such a response from the ad as he did, and we am sure he has gained many new accounts by taking this gamble on an agent's word.

We hope other firms will profit by Mr. Michael's venture and will come to realize that if they give Negro papers a little more consideration when they make up their budgets for advertising, they too, will get a larger number of Negro customers.

The New Jersey Herald-News is their own New Jersey newspaper, owned and operated by Negroes, and we are proud to say it is printed by a well-beloved friend of the Negro, Mr. Kaufman, owner of the Jewish Chronicle.

For the sake of the Negro race and to show your appreciation to Mr. Michael when you order your Xmas shopping, remember Michael's, a tried and true friend of the Negro.

PROSPECTUS

Progressive action is both the motive and objective of democracy. If not "Truth," then the SPIRIT OF TRUTH will make men free and creative. They serve RACE or GROUP or SELF best who, like Roger Williams, would claim for themselves no right or privilege which is not granted to all men equally.

Paterson The Magnificent

The title of this editorial may not meet with the approval of some who read it because we may seem in the following paragraphs to be glorifying crime. However, when we call the city of Paterson magnificent we are praising, not condemning.

For months our reporters have brought us startling stories from that city, stories replete with drama, stories as exciting as any in the country.

Latest of these is the Rev. Armstead murder whose varied and thrilling angles make it destined to remain on the front pages until after the trial in January.

But the Armstead case, although probably more sensational than the others is not more interesting. Earlier in the year there was the Leonard Kyles manslaughter case which ended in the acquittal of the brother of the AME Zion Bishop.

Also there flared in the headlines the remarkable and still alive case of Floyd Mix who recently escaped the second time from a South Carolina chain gang and whose whereabouts are sealed in mystery.

There was the George Watson Van Dunk "tobacco road" estate fight in which his two "wives" played leading roles.

And there was the Rene Paul mystery which was born in the Irish Sweeps race last March and was climaxed when Paul was brought back to Trenton as a subject in the Peter Levine extortion affair.

In the space of a short few months all these news headlines have been paraded before the world. What more interesting subject could there be than finding some social reason in the Paterson population explaining why it gives more sensation even than Harlem.

Is there some wild strain of mixed bloods in the "silk mill capital" which keeps emotions near the surface of Patersonians? Is Paterson so geographically situated that it is one of those cities "where something always happens"? Is it really a "wild" town with a frontier-like aspect where life is lived in the raw? This we cannot answer. It would take an observant resident of that city to really give an answer.

But this town, which in 1938, deserves the title of the news capital of New Jersey, is not all crime. Some of our most distinguished leaders live there. Some of our finest institutions succeed there. Plenty of good news comes out of Paterson.

The air there is filled with excitement to visitors. Life seems to boil down in the famed "shore" section. There is a pleasing racial relationship there. We believe Paterson is magnificent in other ways than crime.

In fact out of the headline after headline which come out of this city there is good to be derived. If life in Paterson is as exciting as it seems from the newspapers, certainly the town should produce some genius capable of putting this real life drama into words. Perhaps some day one of our greatest novels will be born in the same city where big stories break.

Some time ago it was a current statement among famous authors that one could be inspired to write great novels in only two cities in America—New York and New Orleans. But from a racial point of view we would at least add Paterson to those two.

Where Our Money Goes

Where do the streams of gold spent by Negroes in our cities end?

This simple subject contains the solution to most of our economic ills, yet it is a hard lesson to drive home.

If 8,000 colored families in Newark spent five dollars a week for food the total is $40,000 a week.

If 700 families in the Prudential Apartments pay only $20 a month rent the total is $14,000 a month.

If 2,000 families buy one pint of liquor a week that is $2,000 a week.

These figures could be continued until our purchases would run to an estimated total of millions a year.

To get their share of these millions big and little firms use every method to attract our dollars. But little of this money is ever returned to us in the form of business or wage income.

8,000 families in Newark could support a colored chain grocery store set-up that would net its owners a fortune and employ hundreds of us.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor

Sir: I think the law which concerns persons seeking employment i. e., that those persons obtain health cards, is a mighty good rule. But I do not think it covers enough ground, and, if there are people who think that this law is sufficient for good of the public, permit me to point out the fact that it is just as necessary for an employer to have a health card as it is that the person employed must have a "health card." Disease does not respect particular persons. It does not confine itself to those who are forced to work as domestics at cetera. The employer is as susceptible, to syphilis, cancer, tumors, diphtheria, smallpox or any other contagious ailment as is the employee.

There are employer's homes where if a healthy employee enters for work over a period of time, because of contact or carelessness as the case may be, with those of such homes who have the contagion, the worker also will suffer.

I am Sir,

Edward Henry Simms

Rev. Ellerson
Has Colorful
Experience

Dr. Ellerson was called to the pastorate of the church to succeed the late Dr. Frank F. Eggleston in September, 1918, and has held the longest pastorate in the history of this congregation.

Having taken his college course at Middle University (now Johnson C. Smith University), at Charlotte, N. C., Dr. Ellerson entered Princeton Theological Seminary, graduating with honor from both institutions.

Leaving the seminary he returned to the South and served very successfully in the pastorate at Asheville, N. C., Jacksonville, Fla., and Birmingham, Ala. He was then called to the faculty of J. C. Smith University to take the chair of "The English Bible" and "Missionary History." While connected with the work at the university, Dr. Ellerson was appointed to travel throughout the East and West presenting the financial needs of the educational work on the Southern field. This round of travel brought both Dr. and Mrs. Ellerson in contact with the people of Newark, and finally resulted

The money we spend for every item therein could support a huge racial business and industrial set-up.

Many experts, such as J. A. Jackson of Standard Oil, have published these interesting figures. They have been publicized by speakers and through the press. But the lesson is hard to learn.

We wonder if it will be ever learned.

Our huge buying power interests hundreds of great white business houses. Yet it seldom interests us to garner some of this stream of gold for ourselves.

Let's Go To Work

After many turbulent sessions and anxious moments it appears that the Negro Survey Commission will at last start work. The announcement this week of the appointment of 30 workers and the beginning of work in Atlantic City is good news, though somewhat late. The balance of the staff should be appointed forthwith and the survey made as rapidly and thoroughly as possible.

It is understood that legislation will be introduced in the next session of the Legislature to correct the abuses discovered. Strong public support must be given these measures if they are to be enacted. To secure this support the Commission must inspire public confidence and sympathy in the survey. Any further delay or petty bickering would prove fatal to this objective.

The time is short, the money has been appropriated and most of the staff appointed—so LET'S GO TO WORK!

Trade With Advertisers

A report has come to the Herald-News office that some downtown stores are not anxious to trade with members of the race.

We are investigating this charge.

To be on the safe side we advise our readers to trade with the merchants advertising in this newspaper. Their advertisements thus placed insure you of their willingness to transact business with the race.

Mrs. Ellerson, who is a graduate of Scotia Seminary (now Barber Scotia College) at Concord, N. C., has worked hard and hand-in-hand with Dr. Ellerson throughout his splendid success in the pastorate and work of the Christian Ministry.

During this pastorate the minister has performed 298 marriage ceremonies, received more than nine hundred members into the church and for all purposes the church has raised more than $117,000.00. Dr. Ellerson has represented the church as Commissioner to the General Assembly on five occasions—three times from Presbyteries in the South.

HI, FOLKS. ARE YOU LISTENING? You are? Well, LET'S GET TOGETHER and we'll give you the JIVE and JABBER... PERTH AMBOY: HOLD everything, because "RED LINCOLN," DRUMMING ACE of the popular WILLIAM WILKINS' GRAND BAND of South Hampton, Long Island, is in TOWN... CHATTING TWAS learned that the popular band which has been in demand at some of the outstanding SPOKS in the CITY for over six years, will, in all probability, make its JERSEY debut soon... Dig us next week for more... Walter Gibson and Amos Scott are running neck to neck in an effort to secure the BEST XMAS gift for charming Miss Camille Manville of NEW BRUNSWICK... Wonder which will win the RACE, or will CHAMPAIGNE FLOW AGAIN?

ASSURY PARK: Hello, Murray, the boy they say that you shouldn't LOVE so strongly, because LOVE WILL ALWAYS FIND UP TO WAX, but should listen to "Flash Gordon" Gomez, the great Cheese Eater, who is noted for ordering on the CUFF... A CAMEL drinks every TEN days, BUT many are wondering when does GOMEZ drink, and if it's always on the CUFF... MATAWAN: Didn't know that Mrs. Larena Williams attended THAT birthday party in honor of her sister, Miss Mary... EAST BRUNSWICK: Mrs. Williams surely had a BIG DAY, he cautioned, but that also, TREKKED into the APOLLO and spoke to the KINNEY CLUB in the company of her sister, Miss Vastora Banks of ASSURY PARK... Miss Olive Sydum spent the week-end with Mr. William Falcon of NEW YORK... CARTERET: SWEET SIXTEEN is Leona Adams, popular society deb and secretary of the SOPHISTICATED GIRLS CLUB... Wonder where did Sam Garrison go on Sunday night? He was with the EAST BRUNSWICK... YES, it's about RALPH SPIN- NAY, and Whatta Man is RALPH... On Thursday night he KISSED ANN C. and from thence on he was SPEECHLESS and had to be taken home in an AMBULANCE... They say that three doctors were called, including a SPECIALIST... My, oh my, that KISS was really costly. WONDER who'll be Ralph's next victim...

LEARNED that Mr. George Stokes of West Bergen really "PRANCED" HERE, so he heard that he was the winner of "WHAT 'MIGHTY FINE' TURKEY DAY BASKET given at the SWANKY COEDS' CLUB" at the home of Hattie Hammonds... WHAT LUCK... Hello, Sissy Dyson of BLOOMFIELD, don't forget to bring yours and tell the others to bring their "LOVEYS" to the SWANKY COEDS' AMATEUR SHOW, to be held at the "X" on Thursday night... YES, it's going to be a KILLER... So Hattie Hammonds, Carolyn Hammonds and Raula Greve, you DID trick UP to the BIG CITY during the holiday season... Tell me you had a "DUCKY" TIME... Mr. John Wright of SWEDSBORO spent TIME with Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Pennington of CHERRY STREET recently... Wonder if Elizabeth Jackson is thinking about NEW YORK?... AT DAN'S the SKILL CONTEST is still on and BILL SMACK still leads with 600... J. B. Bijou or RALPH SPIN- NAY needs a close second with J. C. Fuller holding his own... "PRANCED" HERE... I KNOW that BILL will come through again... Hello, Don Sanderlin, those XMAS CARDS are really the "PLAY"Y... PERTH AMBOY: Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Eaton "PARTIED" in '28, but 'twas in '38 that they KISSED, made up and walked ARM IN ARM to that DINNED at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lincoln on TURKEY RAY... Tell me that: Margaret Marino, Madeline Lincoln, Emily Lincoln, Mr. Frederick "PRANCED" HERE... Sissy Dyson, Graham, Haskell Thompson, James Dillier, Bill Brown, Freddie Perry, Estelle Jackson—ALL led a HISTORY teacher, and they say that Freddie Sparks is Number One on Almarie Brown's LOVE list... Lionel Gumbs would like to be another Benny Carter and is still thinking about Tillie Vandavee of WHITNEY STREET in NEWARK... Don't get lost next time, George... STILL IN NEWARK... Well, now, by SPECIAL DEMAND we take you to KEYPORT, where things have HIM BUZZING and a happening recently... AND NOW, all about Jimmy Green of RED BANK vs. the UNITED ARMY... Wash Jackson, Lee and Arthur, we didn't think that the "ARMY" would do such a thing... AFTER ALL, Jimmy Green is a "MIGHTY FINE LAD"... Was it because the "CHICKS" were getting too SWEET on him that prompted your ARMY to invite him outside the other nite and then give him a sound THRASHING? YES, COLD perspiration oozed from your BROWS when Jimmy walked into the SPOT a few nights after and DARED the ARMY to start FIRE... YOUR ARMY didn't FIRE a SHOT, but retreated into your SHELLS, SCARED STIFF... One gent, reading at the time, TREMBLED so that the paper even got the JITTERS, and then when Jimmy ordered COOLERS for the other VETS' DRUM, wasn't DOWNED, because mouths were closed tighter than a DRUM... A member of your army has now left town because his wife won't speak to him...

...Your ACT was UNCALLED for, but of course that's PAST NOW, but how about "GETTING TOGETHER" and staying on the right side of the "MULBERRY BUSH"?... Ten you'll be doing SOMETHING... Paterson

By CLARA L. SMITH
St. Augustine Presbyterian Church realized almost ninety dollars from the Fall Bazaar. Mrs. Charles June was chairlady. Attracting most attention was the quilt made by the ladies of the Young Women's Christian Association.

A. W. W. wife of the pastor of the Greater Bethesda Baptist Church of Chicago, is home again after having been confined to the hospital since September 4th, due to an operation. Rev. Watts formerly pastored the First Calvary Baptist Church.

Friends of Miss Lillian Walker of VanHouten street were grieved to learn of her sudden illness. She was taken ill en route to work on Friday morning and fell at the corner of Street and Ellis street. After being taken to the Paterson General Hospital she was unconscious for several hours. Her condition is described as poor. Miss Walker resides with her sister, Daisy, who is very upset about the suddenness of the attack.

Rev. Charles L. Tarter, assistant pastor of the Grace Church of Baltimore, has accepted the call to pastor the St. Augustine Presbyterian Church. He is a graduate of Oberlin, Ohio, and well qualified for the work.

The passing of Mrs. Ruth Schomaker recalls many facts to our older residents. Years ago she was in the employ of Mrs. Garrett A. Hobart, widow of the Vice-President. "Pop" Thomas, who was killed at the battle of Gettysburg, was still residing here and in New York City, was also employed at the Hobart home. He was a Civil War veteran. Mrs. Schomaker was a guest at the Welfare Home at the time of her passing.

Mrs. Rachel Armstrong, mother of the late Rev. Geo. Washington Armstrong, has returned to Willow Grove, Pa. She came here to attend the rites of her son and is still suffering from shock. Mrs. Armstrong collapsed when news of her son's passing reached her, and she was feared at first that she would not be able to attend the rites.

Mr. Wm. Mitchell Curless of Chicago died suddenly from a heart attack. He was an uncle of Dr. A. M. Curless of Van Houten street.

Please phone your news to Lambert 3-9795. Thank you.

Miss Morris Feted At Buffet Supper

Sally's Chatterings

IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE!!! Oh, yeah? Never pays to be bolstered up with what is termed SELF-SUFFICIENCY. None of us is sufficient unto ourselves, and how well your columnist realizes this when last week with a melody in our heart (ah, it was MONDAY) enroute to the "daily grind"...OPP down we went on the ice and discovered we had sustained a severely sprained ankle. So here we are all crippled up, and the ray of sunshine in this misfortune is the opportunity to realize the slew of friends we possess.

We were delightfully entertained by IRENE MORRIS, pausing in her busy routine of visiting nurse to stop and chat, regretting that "39" will no longer ring with the voice of sister MELBA, who will verily, verily soon lay aside her days of singing about the house and acquire another half within the month. That reminder up that via phone confab MIMI advised that it's a hundred fortunes who will witness the bride and groom pagament, while two hundred friends and acquaintances will be advised that DECEMBER 26th, 1938, at high noon is the date and hour. Sorry we can't accommodate any more, but that's another story. While we are on the subject of MILDRED MORRIS we'll digress about the famous rendition (by request), "STORMY WEATHER." Our public will be pleased to know that ETHEL WATERS has just completed another record for the VICTOR RECORD HOUSE entitled "MINE" and using common parlance it "sends you."

DAISY MULFORD took her grandmother, the handsome DOWAGER MULFORD, to witness the WPA project play at the old Orpheum Theatre and was greatly disappointed to see such a host of our Race assembled as participants, but with very little important roles, and these roles merely depicting the landing of the slaves and the "DRED SCOTT DECISION." Your columnist offers no comments for knowing me as you do you are able to read my sentiments.

FRANCES FOLK SCOTT has been certified as one of the CITY NURSES, and this cheered us up a good deal, for now she will not lose her very efficient nursing ability through lack of practice. Her famous rendition of "N. 15th street came up with ALICE SIGHTLER COOKE (to whom we owe the rapidity of recovering the use of our ankle, for she's a right good nurse), and during our marriage a minor key was struck when we learned that little BERNICE GIBBONS will soon enter the hospital for a tonsil operation. It's only minor, youth possessing vim, vigor and vitality recede easily to the common to the human family.

FRANCES FOLK SCOTT, a talented study in beauty, enroute to the BEAU MONDE tea (at which we bet a dollar to a doubtant he was listed as one of the best dressed young men dropped in and we were in a slough of despair because we couldn't hobnob out to this outstanding affair, but we cheered up considerably on learning that his trip to NORTH CAROLINA of the other week also it took him there to visit a sick relative, brought a good deal of success in that he had opportunity to demonstrate his new skin preparation, and a great many demands have come from that State for the item. We wonder if it is due to the efficacy of the preparation or the innate ability of Donald Stokes.

All Around

By LILLIAN B. HUFF

Spoke of Mrs. Hill for one in every way is proclaiming the success of the yule-tide season. Pretty girls wearing out yuletide invitations to be taken home... Everywhere in the great city of Newark for the coming social season... Until this past week there has been a dearth of affairs, to be gladly welcome the arrival of St. Nick.

Speaking of the past, the play: "Crested Jewel" made its bow to Newark theatre-goers during the previous week in a slightly chilled theatre. We shivered through the WPA opera, which is nothing more or less than a historical pageant depicting the changes in the government of the United States. At the finale was surprised at the number of colored in the house, as they kept very much in the background. Earl Hayer, extempore poet, was allowed to come out as Dred Scott and say a few "Uncle Tom" words.

NORTH END TENNIS CLUB DANCE

Despite the lack of a crowd, we think these present had a mighty fine time at the dance Saturday night, given by this popular group of folks. Spiced Corns, Corns of Roselle, all drew up in black with the Ruffin pants. Audrey Purvis in a black velvet gown with gold accessories. Grace Jordan, petite in a plum dress. Mrs. Frank Bell in a black print. covered in a striped lame blouse with a black cape skirt. Betty Collins telling of her trip to Washington to see Betty, J. who is a nation's champion. Billy Mickey claiming she is only staying home sleeping these days.

Jelly, Carr, nearly in a red dress, inviting us with that true Southern hospitality to be sure to come to see her.

BEAU MONDE'S AGAIN TO THE FORE

Nothing swankier in two-sliping has been given in a long time than the affair held by the Beau Monde at the Orange, N. J. C. Sunday afternoon. No sense in trying to describe who was there, just think of everyone. Mrs. Morris, more of a sensation than a social butterfly, was on hand. Sadie, Lillian, and Viola Fox motored way over from Plainfield. Lucy Harrington was dressed "down" in a silver lace with hat to match. In fact, all club members looked unusually well. Ruth, Hurd, is wearing a simple dress today, that says all is well with plans for that Bermuda honeymoon. Naomi Wright, one of Newark's successful beauticians, played for the singing of Othello's Arie. Al Thomas drove over from Jersey City with his mother as Kay Wilson was at home nursing her father, who recently slipped down the stairs. Beatrice, Worley, anxious for me to meet Mr. Frederic, president of New York, who is studying at N. Y. U. for his Ph.D. in Economics. Ruby Rodgers, swanky in a new black fur coat. Miss Mae Mulford of Newark. Mrs. Mabel Robinson in wine from head to toes, greatly telling of her own accomplishments. Loretta Oathey, wearing an interesting black hat completing her black outfit. Sure would like to know Evelyn Burns' dressmaker (not that it would do any good), she looks like "First Avenue" every time we meet.

Honor Miss Morris At Nuptial Shower

ORANGE—Mesdames Beale Hill of Berwyn street and Bertha Randolph, of 18th street, Newark, were co-hostess Saturday evening at the former's home to one of the loveliest parties of the pre-yuletide season when they honored the bride-elect, Miss Mildred Morris of Chester avenue, with a linen shower. Proceeding the opening of the shower a delectable turkey dinner with all the trimmings was served.

North Jersey's social-élites were well represented by: Mesdames Beale Hill, Jean Darden, Patricia Elmsford, Mildred, Mrs. Charlotte Kyle, Abby Nevins, Virginia Savoy, Winifred Givens, Nellie Carr and Miss Helen Miller of Newark; Mesdames Alice Bell and Marcia Williams of Mount Airy; Mesdames Ella W. Ford, Mrs. Gladys Ross and Miss Margaretta Cross of Jersey City; Mrs. Betty Carter of Ashbury Park, Mrs. Marion Weathers of Passaic; Mesdames Florence Parks, Lillian Alexander of Orange; Mesdames Billy Mickey, Olive Henderson, Eliza Collins of East Orange, Mrs. Fannie Curtis of Paterson; Mrs. Fanny Thompson of Westfield; Mesdames Jessie Fausst, Harris, Jennie Johnson and Esther Rofenst of New York City.

Miss Mildred Morris and Drywood Williams, son of Mrs. Mary Williams, veteran civic worker, vows December 26 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris of 38 Chester Avenue. Her only attendant will be Mrs. Beale Hill of Orange. The bride will wear a white satin gown, white tulle tutu and carry a white prayer book. Kenneth Woodruff of Orange will be best man. The ceremony will be performed by Father Louis Berry of St. Philip's and Rev. George Platt, of Epiphany, assisted by Rev. Charles C. Weathers.

Following the simple ceremony before the family and a few close friends, a reception will be held for about two hundred guests at the Morris's residence. The prominent couple will spend their honeymoon in Atlantic City. On their return they will make their home in Rutherford, New Jersey. Miss Morris, one of Newark's popular school teachers, is employed at the Abington Avenue School. She is a member of St. Philip's Episcopal Church. She is listed as a charter member of the National Phi Delta Kappa Society, also a member of the 1-Divide U Bridge. Barringer High School and Newark. Normal claimed her as a graduate. She has also taken special courses at N. Y. U. and Columbia.

Criterion Formal On Xmas Eve

The annual formal dance of the Criterion (Bamberger Boys) will be held at Krueger's Auditorium on December 24, it was announced this week. Their holiday formal last year was one of the most successful affairs ever staged in this city and the popular club members promise to make this year's dance even more elaborate and entertaining than last season.

Final arrangements for music and entertainment have not been completed, but an announcement will be ready on these matters by the next issue of this paper. A crowd of 2,500 is expected to enjoy the evening with the Bamberger Boys.

Chick Webb Here Dec. 30

Chick Webb, radio's "Sultan of Swing," whose famous band has been heard over the NBC network from Leavitt's Restaurant in Boston, comes to Krueger's Auditorium on December 30 for a personal appearance under the auspices of the Seven Pals.

Chick, internationally known as the greatest colored swing drummer of all time, brings several featured artists to entertain with the band. Among them are Ella Fitzgerald, "the enchantress of swing," heard on the Webb Deca recordings, and Tootie Jordan, hot trumpet player, whose solos are often featured with the band.

Chick Webb and his orchestra are coming to Krueger's direct from their Broadway and Harlem triumphs. "They were a sensation at the Cotton Club; scored another hit at Connie's Inn and turned away crowds at the Savoy Ballroom in New York City. In Boston, Chick Webb set a new record as the first colored band to ever play the nationally famous Leavitt's Restaurant. During the orchestra's long stay in Boston spot, they were heard broadcasting nightly over the NBC coast-to-coast network.

The Spotlight

MILTON PITTMAN

The spotlight falls this week on Milton Pittman, ace pianist and entertainer who is featured along with his band at the Boston Plaza. One of the most popular musicians in North Jersey, Pittman has been knocking at the door of distinction achievement for some time and it seems at last he has arrived.

To "out local" "Pats" Walker goes the credit for being the leading spirit and force behind the new famous Jam Sessions. It was Pittman who first conceived the idea and sold it to the local tavern owners and today Jam sessions are popular the country over.

Playing the piano in most every outstanding city in the country, Pittman has been a favorite every place he works. Possessed of a winning personality and a yearning for originality, his numbers always receive a liberal response from the public. Since serving as emcee at the Jam Sessions he has become tops in this capacity.

He is anxious to take the standard and inject dignity into our local life.

His pet peeve is a concealed musician or entertainer.

His main ambition is to be the leader of a fine band in his own night club.

His musical talents have found expression in such songs as "I'm Still in Love With You" and "You Say You Love Me Now." These songs will be published soon.

Milton Pittman, by virtue of his ability and achievements, is definitely in the Spotlight.

Do Champs Get More Of Glory Than Of Gold?

NEW YORK CITY—A more or less placid ring situation in which the colored champions were monarchs of all they surveyed and most of them in the seemingly profitable stable of Promoter Mike Jacobs was rudely interrupted Thursday when Eddie Mead, Henry Armstrong's manager, announced.

"We are breaking away from Mike Jacobs; we will campaign independently. We won't fight for Jacobs' doughnut money any more."

And so a lot of fight fans here who have been thrilled time and again by the victories of Joe Louis, Henry Armstrong and John Henry Lewis are discussing whether or not their private lives have been featured more by glory and head lines than by large net profits.

It is hard for fans to believe that the busy Homicide Hank had a kick coming because he was making little money. Seeing him suffering from pain despite his victories in the Madison Square Garden dressing room following the Lou Ambers and Cecilia Garcia fights, his friends and reporters were comforted by the thought that good money compensated him for frequent fighting. Now, according to Mead, there was no good money.

Mead's statement intimates there is more money in free-lancing with a champion than in fighting under the Jacobs banner.

If this charge is true, what about Louis and Lewis, both of whom are also under that banner?

The big chance of Lewis comes in January when he fights Joe. It is easy to estimate whether he made long or short money before he joined the Jacobs stable; but his financial fate under Jacobs remains to be seen.

Joe Louis' net his managers would ever give a definite statement as to his net earnings. But observation of some things Joe does or fails to do gives some grounds for questioning the oft-made assertion that he is a millionaire.

The Louises do not seem to live in excessive luxury in Chicago, according to interviews with Mrs. Louis. They live in an apartment and do not entertain extensively.

Mrs. Louis also denied the oft-told story that Joe built his mother a new house in Detroit, stating he only repaired the old house. Many instances of either a modest income or excessive thrift might be cited to show that in his private life Joe, though far from poor, may also be far from rich.

The other night Al Gainer of New Haven lost to Tiger Jack Fox in the Bronx and also lost his chance to win out in the elimination matches whose winner takes the light-heavy crown. It was a listless fight and devoid of thrills, but behind the scenes there were revealed some financial figures that illustrate what a boxer may often have to face.

Although he was instrumental in drawing a gate of $6,386, Gainer didn't have a nickel left over after two sheriff's attachments of his share had been made by his former lawyer and erstwhile manager. His purse

Joe Not At Dad's Funeral

LAFAYETTE, Ala.—Hundred of Negroes and a small group of white men and women attended the funeral Sunday of Monroe Parrow, father of Joe Louis, heavyweight champion of the world.

Some of the whites were friends of the Parrow family who have been well-thought-of farmers in Chambers County for several generations. The heavyweight champion, seventh child of the aged Parrow who died last week, died in a state hospital, was not present but another son and two daughters came here from Detroit.

Newark 'Y' Wins Over Plainfield

Paced by William Lovett, former Arts High School athlete, the Court Street "Y" upset the flashy Plainfield Y. M. C. A. basketball team in a thrill-jammed contest on the former's court by a 40-31 score. Lovett seems to be regaining his shooting form that enabled him to carry off individual scoring honors of the Y. M. C. A. junior last year. He pierced the draperies with six field goals and three free tosses for a total of 15 points, while Slim Saunders of Plainfield topped the score column for the losers with six field goals and a successful shot from the 15-foot line for 13 markers. The "Y" Jayvees made it Court Street "Y" day by putting the skids on the Plainfield Junior Varsity team, whose record was unmarred.

Marshall Is Good

One of the most promising high school youngsters to perform on the local gridiron this year was Theodore Marshall of South Side. Playing left halfback for the Sunnysiders, he played brilliant ball the whole season and scored his team's only touchdown against West Side, and he also made a neat jump over Weeback High's goal line.

Theodore is only 17 years old and is a former track star of Monmouth State School, where he won the grade school 100-yard dash title. He is expected to carry on with equal brilliance against High School runners, and next season should see him rating among the best backs in the State.

Paxton And Hurst Star

Willie Hurst, former South Side high football and basketball luminary, was one of the outstanding heroes of Virginia State's sensational victory over Morgan Thanksgiving Day. Hurst started at the fullback post for Coach Jefferson's eleven and proved a terror to the Bears' forward wall. He figured prominently in both touchdowns scored by State and along with Briscoe shared the bulk of the ball-carrying duties.

St. Paxton, former Long Branch High star, was the outstanding back on the field as Xavier defeated Langston in an upset win on Thanksgiving night. The 155-pound speedster knifed through the Langston line in the second half and dashed 21 yards for the lone score of the game. Xavier won 7-0.

Other Jersey boys who starred in Virginia State's win over Morgan were Joe Echols, Englewood; Bartee, former All-State guard of Asbury Park; and Nelson, another guard from Princeton.

Posts A Record

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Syracuse University football statisticians, checking up on the colored passing ace, Wilfred Sidel-Singh (above), have discovered he completed 20 of 70 forward passes during the past season for a total gain of 419 yards. Five of these passes resulted directly in touchdowns, while many of the others set up scores. He ran back three kickoffs for more than 40 yards and averaged 5.6 yards by carrying the ball.

Armstrong The Winner

CLEVELAND.—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong knocked out Al Manfredi of San Francisco in the third round Monday night to defend his world welterweight championship before 12,724 fans.

Referee Tony Labranchi spent the bout at 1:45 of the third round. Manfredi was helped through the second and third rounds and was scolding badly and completely defenseless when Labranchi stepped back by Armstrong. The terrific punch by Armstrong won Manfredi out early in the second round and the San Francisco did not throw a punch in the third.

Armstrong weighed 135½ pounds and Manfredi 116. The bout, scheduled for 15 rounds, topped the 13th annual Cleveland News Christmas charity boxing show.

Lou Ambers, ex-lightweight champion from Berlin, N. Y., won a technical knockout over veteran Frankie Wallace of Cleveland when Wallace failed to answer the bell for the seventh round. Wallace was forced to quit because of an injured right hand. Former lightweight champion Benny Leonard was the third man in the ring. Ambers won the 20th and Wallace 13th.

Pete Sarson, former featherweight champion from Birmingham, Ala., gave Cleveland Golden Gloves Grad Mike Gambire a ten y boxing lesson in the first of the 10 rounds.

The array of former college stars are out to duplicate the feat of the Renaissance in "letting the locals on their home court. Many of the players are known in this vicinity and a large crowd is expected to witness the game.

Crawfords Meet Hebrews Sunday

The Pittsburgh Crawfords basketball team will oppose the Hebrew Five on Sunday night at the Y. M. H. A. The Crawfords gave the locals one of their toughest games last year, losing out by one point in the final seconds of play.

Featured in the visitors' lineup are such outstanding stars as Jas. Thomas, Morgan, Jack Bourque, Wilberforce, Cliff Mitchell, Lincoln; Dave Henderson, Clark University; Leonard Lawrence, Duquesne; Louis Bayden, Lincoln; Bill Reape, Va. Union; Eddie Williams, N. Y. U.; Bill Singh, Syracuse.

Powell To Go To Cleveland

NEW YORK—It was learned from reliable sources this week that Jake Powell, outfielder of the Yankees, will definitely be traded during the winter meeting of the league moguls. Powell may become the property of the Cleveland Indians in a big-player trade.

The troublesome star was on the way out of the Ruppert-owned club when he insulted the Negro race in a broadcast from Chicago. He was suspended by Judge Landis for the remark and has since been a target for pop bottles and other evidences of the fans' wrath wherever he subsequently played.

A threatened boycott of Ruppert's Leet by Negroes throughout the country if the Yankee owner continued to retain Powell is believed to have been the determining factor in causing the trade.

Stars Face Jinx

A jinx seems to dog the Philadelphia Stars baseball team. The sudden death of Slim Jones recalled to mind the fact that since the Stars were organized in 1933, the outstanding players have died.

The tragic death of Tom Finley, who was right in his prime and playing the best ball of his brilliant career in the winter of 1934, was followed shortly by the sudden accidental death of Dillard, star first baseman. Both of these were key players on the Stars and now the demise of Jones continues the jinx.

"Dick" Lundy, manager of the Eagles, in speaking of the death of Jones, said: "The death of Slim Jones means that the Stars have lost three outstanding ball players in recent years. Tom Finley was at the top of his game and would have been one of our greatest ball players today had he lived; Dillard was an outstanding player and one of the hardest fighters in baseball, while Jones, who was due for a comeback next year, was one of those rare pitching gems when he was right."

Their passing is a terrible blow to the Stars and Negro baseball.

Keep Punching With Pedro Lombardo

Just received word that Brown Manning, Nailey, middleweight, has reached Australia safely and is all right save for a small case of seasickness. He will start training soon and will let me know when and who he is going to fight. Brown's stock soared after Solly Krueger won the middleweight title, for Brown liked the champion here at the Laurel Garden two years ago.

Doc has taken another fight under his wing, by the name of Lenzy Bates, a middleweight, and a coming boy. I was asked by Jim Jeffries does not fight in Newark. He has got Officers 340 and 366 crazy to see him in action. I have seen this boy fight and he is a real prospect, and I believe he is handled right; he is destined to reach the top.

The manager of Richard's Clothing Store, Mr. Jay, used to be interested and has assisted in promoting the game of the old Miller's. I would like to see some of the old-timers to call on him in the near future. He is a real friend of the boys.

The Boosters' Club is going to get started soon, so watch out for the opening day. Now, friends, let's get together and help put over that benefit for Community Hospital with Maxie Fisher meeting Vincent Reed in the main event.

Q. How many fights has Lenzy Bates had? A. Two.

Q. When will Vince Reed fight here? A. Soon.

Q. Is Buster LaBerth still handling fighters? A. Yes.

Q. Who trains Willie Harris? A. Officer 340.

John Henry Lewis is gaining strong support among a number of Harlem fight fans who point out that his superior boxing ability will turn the tide of battle in his favor. Others point out that his superior boxing ability will turn the tide of battle in his favor. Others point out that his superior boxing ability will turn the tide of battle in his favor.

John Nash, an end, is also from Cape May and won his varsity letter this year. Albert Terry of Montclair was a member of the Freshmen eleven and will be a strong contender for a varsity post next fall.

Griffin Is Named

HAMPTON INSTITUTE, VA. James M. Griffin of Cape May, N. J., was selected captain of Hampton's 1939 football team at a meeting of lettermen here this week. Griffin played halfback on the team and was a stellar performer and an inspiring leader the whole season. His selection was unanimous.
